Faculty Susan Sprinkle-Vincent, AAS, RT(R)(M)

Susan Sprinkle-Vincent, AAS, RT(R)(M), Director/Consultant for Mammography Services, is an internationally known expert in the field of mammography with years of experience performing and teaching mammography. She was previously an instructor associated with the continuing education program sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and American College of Radiology. Susan was the Project Director of Mammography at the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Clinic. She joined the AHEC team in 2000 to expand the mammography educational services and to build a new division to assist AHEC's clients with mammography consulting services. Susan is widely known for her expertise in the clinical aspects of mammography and her technical skills. She continues to actively teach technologists, residents, and physicians the finer details of this highly technical field. Susan's desire to share her knowledge with others has led to another amazing experience at AHEC.
